DAVID DECAMP THOMPSON, LL.D.

METHODIST circles throughout the entire country were profoundly shocked at the tidings of the tragic fate that overtook the widely known and greatly beloved editor of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, David DeCamp Thompson, November 10, 1908, at Saint Louis, Mo., where he was sojourning during the annual session of the General Missionary Committee in that city. The accident which resulted fatally occurred at a late hour on Monday evening, but Dr. Thompson survived until half-past eight o'clock on Tuesday morning, when he ceased to work and to live. The remains were conveyed to his home at Evanston, Ill., where the funeral services were held on Thursday afternoon, November 12. Prayer was offered at the house, after which the services were held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church in the presence of a large congregation of friends of the departed and his family. Addresses were delivered by the pastor of the deceased, Dr. T. P. Frost, Bishops McDowell and Berry; Drs. Herben, Nast, and Luccock; Vice-President Fairbanks, and E. R. Graham of Chicago.

Dr. Thompson was born in Cincinnati, O., April 29, 1852. He was educated in the public schools of that city, after which he entered the Ohio Wesleyan University, but owing to impaired health was compelled to withdraw from that institution. In 1887 he became the assistant editor of the Western Christian Advocate and in 1892 of the Northwestern Christian Advocate, of which the late Dr. Arthur Edwards was the editor. Dr. Edwards died in 1891, and the Book Committee appointed Dr. Thompson as his successor for the unexpired portion of the quadrennium. In 1904 the General Conference elected him editor and in 1908 he was reëlected by that body. He was noted for his alertness and enterprise in providing for the demands of the patrons of his paper. He wielded the pen of a ready writer. To the department of authorship he contributed two books, Abraham Lincoln, the First American, and John Wesley as a Social Reformer; while as a magazine writer his ability was conceded.
